A view from the East

Why Serbia should not be allowed to participate in the Western pursuit of Putin bearing the characteristics of warmongering propaganda

Remember you are the wars of the nineties as you follow the news from Ukraine and Gaza? If you're like most people I know, have a bitter taste in the mouth. Because we were the guinea pigs in similar experiments. For us, the West practiced what now for Putin and Russian rebels in Ukraine.

As this is what is working in Gaza, Israel has already worked in Lebanon. And when he warned that for similar offenses in the ICTY trial people from the former Yugoslavia (and mostly Serbs), Israel was working "exactly what the 1999. Worked in Yugoslavia by NATO."

I do not even cross my mind that I claim to have always been the victims. We played a different role at different elevations in the same war tragedy that now monitor the relative geographical and emotional distance.

We're on your own skin felt what it means to be a subject of bitter war propaganda. It is true that we ourselves produce, and we pay dearly, but is now rapidly recognize and decipher.

All words that serve as war harwarders found themselves in use after the demolition of the Malaysian planes over Ukraine. Before any evidence of the involvement of Moscow, "Putin crime" and "Putin's missile" have become commonplace in western media. He started a new cold war and its protagonists seek to declare whether we are with them or against them.

Some clichés recognize (Putin understands only the language of force, thunder these days war correspondent, "New York Times" from Sarajevo), but there are new sounds with the triumphant note of what is not ruled nineties.

British journalist when the cameras caught her clawing the personal belongings of the dead children from the flight MH17 lack of respect for the victims justified by the fact that the scene of the tragedy was not the police who, as in the regulated states, made a cordon sanitaire around the "sterile zone" where journalists would have access.

He was wrong, in other words, because he is not allowed to be here, at the place "where the rules do not apply," as he put it. By that logic would for his obscene gesture could be to blame for Putin - Putin that there would not be Russia's support and therefore perhaps of Russian resistance ...

Without Putin to Colin Fraser perhaps remained a consummate pro what it Skai viewers once thought.

I wonder if Putin is responsible for what we just learned about Timothy Garton ESU, Oxford professor with a reputation of "European intellectual." Putin is said these days, I met another in 1994. Position of deputy mayor of St. Petersburg and the Russian was still then go on my nerves with their misplaced concern for the fate of the 26 million Russians that the collapse of the USSR and the other outside Russia.

I'm surprised the absence of any politically correct in his description of Vladimir Putin, "irritating little man", "rat face".

Indeed, Putin it resembles a rat? Says nothing about the kind of animal it resembles expression of the Ukrainian Prime Minister Jacenjuka, and I hope that we'll never find out. Political sympathies are one thing, but to discover so many eminent historian improper personal attitude seems just grotesque.

A grotesque is a word that Western journalists and politicians love to use for people in the east of Ukraine. There apparently are many grotesque, starting from the fact that the bodies of passengers without a license from the OSCE summer heat shelter in cold storage.

The word grotesque yet not occurred to women journalists the BBC which was yesterday interviewed the legendary head of the Mossad in Israel. Scenes from a slaughterhouse called Gaza on the screen briefly dismissed seemingly benevolent grandfather who said that the mood of the citizens of Israel on the occasion of the attack on Gaza, "just great."

But if Gaza is a war crime, what is a war crime?

I would say that the world has become full of "places where rules do not apply." It seems to no longer apply even in London, which is popular mayor Boris Johnson hopes to one day replace David Cameron as head of the Conservative Party.

The fierce competition is probably the most brazen published author article about the demolition of the Malaysian aircraft. This former journalist recalls how the Americans in 1988. Was passing the warship Hormuz "Vincent" mistakenly shot down an Iranian airliner with 290 passengers and 66 children, but it is a drastic difference between the Americans and Putin, who according to him clearly showed the death of the Malaysian passenger plane. Americans, he says, now honestly admit error and properly investigate the accident.

Nothing could be further from the truth, and it is impossible that Johnson did not know Americans were covered up and lied until the matter could, withheld evidence and zametali clues to the commander eventually awarded a military medal.

Such disregard for the truth of the former professional journalist is not typical for regular, peacetime: this is really lie only in the money and - war.

Only Serbia has no reason to enter into a new cold war that has already begun. Especially there is no reason to join what is our list called "hunting Putin". It would have been unthinkable even to Russia did not owe anything to, even today, even a hundred years ago.

Our history is cruel and our country can not serve as andrićevski "bloody small change" in the trade of the great powers: do not be reckless to enter into alliances with other countries, even those with whom he was in conflict, especially those her no harm not mint. Nor would any of her daring to ask who previously walked in her footsteps, in her shoes.

Please note that the principles of international law, the West calls in Ukraine. When the western republics force otcepljivale of the former Yugoslavia, Western countries have hailed it as an act of self-determination, and recognized as an act of sovereignty.

When the Russians in the east of Ukraine protested against the violent change of government in Kiev were declared terrorists. U.S. Vice President personally flew to Kiev to support the "anti-terrorist operations," the Ukrainian army against the Russian minority.

When the KLA went to war against the Serbian state in Kosovo, Washington was first sent to NATO in this war is air support to the rebels, and then gave them a state.

When the Crimea by a majority returned to Russia in Brussels and Washington immediately condemned Putin's policy of "naked aggression" and "annexation".

Where does that leave the international law? It turns out that the main dividing line on U.S. customers and those who have yet to become. In the former Yugoslavia was considered a principle that everyone can secede from the Serbs, but Serbs can not secede from anyone and to NATO bombing.

In order to convict a referendum in the Crimea, U.S. President Barack Obama invented a non-existent referendum in Kosovo. When Putin called for the right to protect Russians, Hillary Clinton and Tony Blair in him immediately see the new Hitler.

Serbia in the nineties punished and when she tried to be Russia, and when she tried to be Ukraine. What is the true elastic enough to explain?

When he supported the Serbs in Croatia, as Russia supported the Russian minority in Ukraine, the Serbs were exiled as a punishment from Croatia. Serbia was punished when he tried to keep Kosovo, as Ukraine is now trying to save the East.

Our citizens breath stopped when the U.S. ambassador asked Aleksandar Vucic he confirmed his commitment to the principle of territorial integrity in the case of Ukraine.

boldness How to America on our soil tested principle that has just America on our soil triumphantly trampled!

Good text but 'shifted the center of gravity', so to speak. All you Smajlović says is, but the point is by no means out of it. All you are doing is the U.S., as well as propaganda and demonization of Putin, aims to challenge the trade, and if possible, a low-intensity military conflict between NATO and the European part of Russia. The essence of this confrontation of the orchestrated riots in Kiev at the time of the Olympics in Sochi, and even from the time of Pussy Riot's, the NATO story: the story Russia's borders, set up flares, lock on Moscow, the Kremlin cause conflicts with Berlin and Paris, introduced in Europe On a cold winter in Russia in a recession, and then, when you "cards shuffled," see what is there to better off.

problem is large when a large force of water immature people. Because the probability of the outbreak of a war veeeeelikog, who was a bit cold, is the largest of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. And we look forward to and talk about what Serbia.

The fact that Putin and nerve-racking for his opponents, does not in any textbooks, sociology, psychology, neurology. Finally he found someone who throws them in despair, every cast him.

@ F.Franulović

If we discuss the issues that you run before about 15 years or more probably one would not be able to convince you that you're wrong, though, and probably with good obaveštenošću knew what and who was right and the main reason for the breakup of Yugoslavia . Milosevic, Tudjman, Izetbegovic and others were secondary. If you still are not able to look at how things work in the world and the international "law", in the example of the court in The Hague, Iraq, Libya, Egypt, Syria and Ukraine, where everything is the opposite of that as it should be, if Truth, God and justice, then I admit that there is no such word, evidence and arguments that would help to reassure you in your interpretation of the events in Yugoslavia after in 1990. was. I wish you all the best!
